CLASSIC POISE

MUSIC FOR HARP

Classic Poise – Music for Harp

Dating back to antiquity, the harp has for centuries been a staple source of music for many cultures. Today, the modern concert harp continues to enjoy a colourful role in the performance of classical music of all styles, with its versatility allowing it to shine either as a recitalist, an accompanist, an orchestra member, or a concerto soloist.

You will find something for all preferences in this Naxos catalogue, both in arrangements and original works. There are collections specifically reflecting the music of different countries; others that showcase a variety of works with a span of styles, from the Baroque to 20th-century sounds; there's also a selection of discs featuring music by living composers; plus a wealth of chamber music waiting to be explored.

From Mozart's Concerto for Flute and Harp, to the romantic tones of Carl Reinecke's Harp Concerto and the edgier sounds of Witold Lutosławski's 1980 Double Concerto for Oboe and Harp, we have a long and impressive collection of solo artists all lined up for your entertainment.
